Erasmus Mundus Master Course in “Advanced Spectroscopy in Chemistry”

EM Scholarships available for European students

Since 2010, the European Commission awards scholarships to European students (500 euro per month during the whole duration of the programme) for attending the now well recognised « Erasmus Mundus » Master courses, among which is the Master in "Advanced Spectroscopy in Chemistry"

The deadline for applying is January 15th 2012 for entering the course in September 2012.

You will be studying in at least 2 of the following institutions:

- Jagiellonian University Krakow, Poland
- University of Bergen, Norway
- Alma Mater Studiorum University of Bologna, Italy
- University Lille1, France
- Complutense University of Madrid, Spain
- University Leipzig, Germany
- University of Helsinki, Finland

And receive a multiple MSc degree

Find more about and apply to ASC programme: www.master-asc.org

Find more about Erasmus Mundus: