Pre-Doc Award 2023/2024

Call for Applications

5 April 2023

The Pre-Doc Award is a strategic support programme of Leipzig University in the field of promoting young scientists. It is anchored in our university's Personnel Development Concept and the University Development Plan (HEP 2025).

Postdocs and qualified predoc candidates interested in a doctorate get the opportunity to plan a dissertation jointly within a funding period of one year. As a result, applications for a scholarship by the predoc and/or for third-party funding by the postdoc including the financing of a doctoral position should be made. In this way, promising research will be funded and postdocs are strengthened on their way to scientific independence by expanding their supervision skills.

As of 1st October 2023, Leipzig University will provide up to 15 to fund the preparation of doctoral research. Funding will be provided through a position as a research assistant (WHK, Wissenschaftliche Hilfskraft) 19 hours per week for 12 months.

Eligible are national and international graduate students (Masters, Diploma or State Examination) from all research fields with excellent academic records who team up with postdoctoral researchers to propose a joint research/doctoral project.

The application should clearly reflect the collaborative working relationship between the postdoc and the predoc candidate, i.e. both are expected to actively participate in conceptualizing and drafting the application. It is advisable to outline the application in accordance with the postdoc's research profile.

Application and selection procedure

The Pre-Doc Award addresses graduates, whose final exams (date of degree/certificate) will either be achieved shortly, the latest within the first 6 months of the funding period (exception: state examination for the teaching profession) or date back no longer than eight months, and postdocs in the period of qualifying for a next career step after their dissertation or holding a junior or tenure track professorship. The predoc's degree must permit her or him to enrol as a doctoral student in Germany. For non-EU citizens, due to residence regulations, the final certificate has to be obtained latest in the month before the contract start (the contract can start between 1st October 2023 and 1st January 2024).

Notes on Data Protection

By submitting your application documents, you acknowledge your consent to the processing of the data contained therein for the Pre-Doc Award selection procedure. Please note that this also allows the doctorate list responsible at your (future) faculty to inform the Pre-Doc Award coordination team if you are listed already. You have the right to revoke that consent at any time. The data that you provide in the application will only be used for the selection procedure and, in case of selection and funding, for programme purposes, carried out in accordance with Art. 6 of the General Data Protection Regulation (DSGVO, Datenschutzgrundverordnung). This means, that you, for example, agree your data to be shared among the selection committee members from different university bodies (for restricted use within the Pre-Doc Award selection procedure) or to the coordination to address and exchange information with members from the faculty you are aiming for to be employed within the awardee period, e.g. for the purpose of the selection, contract preparation or individual funding processes.

The storage of data is subject to the relevant provisions of the DSGVO on archiving of data.

According to the DSGVO, you have the right to ask for information concerning the processing of your data from the data controller (i.e. the application addressee); you also have the right to rectification, erasure, restriction of processing, as well as the right to object to the processing of the data.

An application via email is considered questionable under data protection law. The applicant assumes full responsibility.
