The Faculty of Life Sciences seeks to fill the following professorship at the earliest opportunity:

W3 Professorship in Biochemical Cell Technology
(Successor to Professor Andrea Robitzki)

Academic context
We are seeking a distinguished scientist with expertise in the field of applied biotechnology of eukaryotic cells. The candidate’s work programme should cover the fields of biochemical microfluidics/microsynthesis, single cell analytics, biosensors or cellular chip technology. It is expected that the research focus fits into the DFG research group “Integrated Chemical Micro Laboratories” (FOR 2177) and the Centre for Biotechnology and Biomedicine (BBZ).

Duties
The work programme should complement the Faculty’s Center for Molecular Interactions in Biomedicine and Biotechnology (C-MIBB) and Leipzig University’s strategic research field “Sustainable Basics for Life and Health”, with the research profile area “Molecular and Cellular Communication in Therapy and Diagnostics”.
The professorship will be devoted to the fields of cell technology, cell genetics and biochemistry in BSc and MSc Biochemistry and Biology (BSc lectures are held in German). In addition, active participation in academic self-governance within the Institute for Biochemistry and the Faculty is expected.

Requirements
International visibility through high-level publications in peer-reviewed journals, success in attracting competitive third-party funding, and a high level of commitment to academic teaching are expected.

Our offer
The job holder’s rights and obligations are regulated by the Saxon Freedom of Higher Education Act (SächsHSFG) and the Saxon Service Regulations for Higher Education Institutions (DAVOHS). Applicants must meet the requirements of Sect. 58 SächsHSFG.

Leipzig University is committed to gender equality.

Severely disabled persons are encouraged to apply and will be given preference in the case of equal suitability.

Applications with the usual documents, including a detailed CV, a list of scientific work and academic teaching including available records of teaching evaluations, as well as a certified copy of the highest academic degree acquired should be sent, by post to:

Data protection officer Augustusplatz 10 04109 Leipzig Phone: +49 341 97-30081 Email: dsb@uni-leipzig.de

Purpose and legal basis of the processing of personal data:
Any data you provide us with in connection with your application will be processed only for the purposes of this selection process and, where appropriate, in preparation for your employment. The legal basis of the processing of your personal data for appointing civil servants/for employment-related purposes is Art 6(1) Sentence 1(e) in conjunction with (3), Art 88 GDPR in conjunction with Sect. 111(6) of the Saxon Civil Servants Act (SächsBG) in conjunction with Sect. 4(1) Sentence 1 of the Saxon Data Protection Act (SächsDSG), and Sect. 26 of the German Federal Data Protection Act (BDSG). Insofar as you provide special categories of personal data during the application procedure within the meaning of Art. 9(1) GDPR (e.g. data concerning health, such as severely disabled status), that data will be processed so that you can exercise your rights in the field of employment and social security and social protection law and so that the controller can carry out its obligations in this regard under employment and social welfare law (Art. 9(2)(b) GDPR).

Disclosure to third parties:
Your application documents will be made available to the members of the appointment committee, which is composed of representatives of Leipzig University and the UFZ, the participating Equal Opportunity Commissioner, the Disability Officer(s) if involved, the appointment officer, external assessors, the Rectorate, the Faculty and University administration, the Saxon State Ministry of Science and the Arts (SMWK).

Personal data storage period:
The duration of the storage of personal data is governed by Sect. 11(4) of the Saxon Data Protection Implementation Act (SächsDSDG). This stipulates that data collected prior to the commencement of a service or employment relationship must be erased without undue delay as soon as it is established that a service or employment relationship will not be established. This does not apply if there is reason to believe that the erasure would harm the legitimate interests of the data subject. If your application is successful, your documents will be added to your personnel file.

Your rights:
You have the following rights vis-à-vis the controller with regard to your personal data:
- Right of access (Art. 15 GDPR)
- Right to rectification (Art. 16 GDPR)
- Right to erasure (Art. 17 GDPR)
- Right to restriction of processing (Art. 18 GDPR)
- Right to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR)
- Right to object to data processing, where the data is collected based on Art. 6(1) Sentence 1(e) or
(f) (Art. 21 GDPR)
- Right to lodge a complaint with the competent supervisory authority (Saxon Commissioner for Data Protection, Bernhard-von-Lindenau-Platz 5, 01067 Dresden) (Art. 77 GDPR).

Obligation to provide data:
The provision of personal data is necessary to ensure the legality of the planned selection process. Failure to include relevant personal data in the application documents may result in your application not being considered for the post. Leipzig University’s legal requirements during the selection process result in particular from Art. 33(2) of the Basic Law (GG), the Constitution of the Free State of Saxony (SächsVerf), the General Act on Equal Treatment (AGG), the Saxon Freedom of Higher Education Act (SächsHSFG), and budgetary law.
